

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITIES PRESS
Psychosocial Press ~ Sphinx Press

JOURNALS PUBLISHED BY IUP

Psychoanalysis and Contemporary Thought

Send all manuscripts to: Leo Goldberger, Ph.D., Editor of Psychoanalysis and Contemporary Thought, 292 Great Barrington Rd., Housatonic MA 01236.

Policy Statement: Psychoanalysis and Contemporary Thought aims at broadening the scientific and intellectual horizon of psychoanalysis. To that end, it publishes original clinical, theoretical, experimental, and quantitative contributions to psychoanalysis, especially interdisciplinary studies integrating psychoanalysis with the social, biological, and behavioral sciences and the humanities. The journal is also open to publication of critical surveys of the literature and special book reviews that evaluate several contemporary books within a topical area of psychoanalytic interest. Letters to the Editor in response to a paper may also be published if they are succinct and relevant.

Journal of Clinical Psychoanalysis

Manuscript Submission: Only articles submitted solely to the Journal of Clinical Psychoanalysis will be considered for publication. The Editors' Introductions to Volume 1, numbers 1 & 3, may serve as a guide both to the Journal's aims and to its standards in the presentation of clinical material. Please send 5 copies of each article to: Office of the Coeditors, Journal of Clinical Psychoanalysis, 247 East 82nd Street, New York NY 10128.

Modern Psychoanalysis

Modern Psychoanalysis is the journal of the Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies. The Editors invite submissions of articles to Modern Psychoanalysis. Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced, on one side of an 8 ½ x 11 white paper, or on a 3 ½ inch disk. The first page should start halfway down from the top, and should be submitted in triplicate with a

SASE. Footnotes and bibliographies must conform to the style of the journal. The Editors should be informed, with the submission, if the article has appeared or has been submitted elsewhere. Send submissions to: Phyllis W. Meadow, Editor, Modern Psychoanalysis, 16 West 10th Street, New York NY 10011

Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy

This broad-based journal is written for psychoanalysis and other professionals who are interested in psychoanalysis and the application of psychodynamic principles to diverse fields of study. The papers reflect classical and contemporary thinking on theory and technique in psychoanalysis, dynamic psychotherapy, and supervision of the psychoanalytic process. Psychoanalytic perspectives on other clinical modalities, such as group therapy, child and family therapy, and the dynamics and treatment of special populations, are an integral part of the journal. Book reviews, discussions of international and community health issues and papers on culture are also included.

Submit manuscripts in triplicate, double-spaced on white bond paper. The title page should include the author's full name, address, email, telephone number, affiliation, and a 200-word summary of contents. Mail manuscripts to: Annette Leavy, M.S.W., Editor, Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy, Postgraduate Center for Mental Health, 138 East 26th St., New York NY 10010

Gender & Psychoanalysis

Only articles submitted solely to Gender & Psychoanalysis will be considered for publication. Send 6 copies of each manuscript to: Claude Barbre, M.S., M.Phil., 319 West 100th Street NY NY 10025. All manuscripts submitted to Gender & Psychoanalysis should conform to the style of the journal.

Policy Statement: Gender & Psychoanalysis is devoted to providing a lively intellectual forum linking and critiquing diverse psychoanalytic views of gender. Its interdisciplinary perspective puts clinical psychoanalysis in conversation with the social sciences and other relevant humanistic and scientific disciplines.

Journal of Imago Relationship Therapy

One original and two high-quality copies of a manuscript should be submitted to Dr. Mo Hannah, Dept. of Psychology, Sienna College, 515 Loudon Road, Loudonville, NY 12211, email: uhcakup9@aol.com, or to Dr. Wade Luquet, 100 South Main Street, North Wales, PA 19454, email: wluquet@myrelationshipcoach.com. An accompanying letter requesting review should state whether the manuscript has been previously published in whole or in part, and that it conforms to APA standards on ethical treatment of participants.

GROUP

The Purpose of GROUP is to provide for the wide range of practitioners, researchers, and theoreticians who comprise the professional group psychotherapy community an international interdisciplinary forum for the exchange of information. The journal publishes a broad spectrum of original, high-quality articles addressing both small and large group processes from a variety of vantage points and disciplines. Papers are welcomed from such fields as psychology, psychiatry, group dynamics, psychohistory, psychobiology, anthropology, sociology, animal behavior, ethnology, ethology, and other relevant areas of endeavor. Articles are peer-reviewed and include clinical, theoretical, research, review, and historical papers, as well as those bearing on practical issues of group therapy practice management. The journal also includes editorials, discussions of submitted papers, readers' responses to papers published in the journal, book reviews, and film reviews relating to the journal's domain of interest.

Manuscripts, in quintuplicate, and in English, should be submitted to the Editor: Martin Livingston, Ph.D., Editor, GROUP, 127 East 30th St., Apt. 3D, New York NY 10016. Email: m-livingston@nyc.rr.com. Telephone: (212) 685-4336. All submissions must follow GROUP guidelines or will be returned for adjustment and resubmission.